(XLth YEAR.) THE (No. 2001.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, MAY 19, 1785.

FRANKFORT, (on the Main) March 7.

LETTERS from Bohemia announce, that the imperial magazines on the frontiers are to be tranſported into the internal parts of the country, on account of ſome movements of a neighbouring power, which give no ſmall uneaſineſs to the court of Vienna.

HAGUE, March 16. By advices from Franconia we hear, that large bodies of Auſtrian troops are marching towards the Netherlands.

Letters from Cologne inform us, that the magazines which were tranſported from the Lower Rhine to that city, are ordered to the neighbourhood of Liege; as likewiſe the proviſions which have been contracted for, in order to ſupply the Auſtrian army.

LONDON, March 10.

By letters from Paris we learn, that the four inhuman wretches, who, after murdering a man, his wife and child, in the foreſt of Orleans, gave their bodies to be devoured by wild beaſts, which it had been their cuſtom to ſhow about the country for a living, were lately executed at Chartres; and the puniſhment was inflicted upon theſe atrocious offenders in the following manner; being put in an iron cage, with a hungry bear, and ſome other animals, they ſeized upon their inhuman victims, and while in the act of tearing them to pieces, a quantity of faggots ſurrounding the cage was ſet fire to, and the men and beaſts were all burnt together.

March 15. A daily paper has the following extraordinary article:—A few days ago Mr. Sc—t, who lived in Percy-ſtreet, Rathbone-place, was found dead in his room, by the people of the houſe. In one hand he graſped bank notes for 60,000l. and in the other ſecurities to a very great amount. The people, after holding a conſultation, not knowing any of his relations, reſolved to communicate the matter to earl Mansfield, which they accordingly did, and his lordſhip ordered his ſecretary to make a ſchedule of the property, and take it into his poſſeſſion. Mr. Sc—t's relations have put in their claim, and it is expected they will amply reward the honeſty of thoſe who firſt diſcovered him. Mr. Sc—t is ſaid to have had 150,000l. in the funds, and poſſeſſed a ſinecure employment of 1500l. per annum. He lived in ſevere penury.

March 24. A letter from Amſterdam ſays, that they have received advice from Leghorn, that one of their ſhips bound to that port, was taken off there by the Algerines, juſt as ſhe was going into that harbour, and was carried into Algiers, and the crew were ſent up the country into ſlavery; that this account has been laid before the ſtates, who are determined to ſend a fleet of men of war to Algiers, to demand of the dey, the ſhip and crew to be releaſed, and if the demand is not complied with, then to join the Spaniards in bombarding the town.

Extract of a letter from Paris, March 9.

"M. Vandeer Monde propoſes to conſtruct an aeroſtatic machine, at the expence of 900,000 livres, which is the uſual price of a ſhip of 64 guns. This academician pretends that trade winds are to be met with throughout the whole atmoſphere, which may ſerve to carry it to any directed point. He believes that with this aeroſtatic ſhip, the plan of which he hath formed, it will be poſſible to make the tour of the globe through the air, as has been done on the ocean by Meſſieurs Maupertuis, Condamine and Bourganville. If he ſhould ſucceed in this undertaking, he will have diſcovered the uſe of balloons."

Extract of a letter from Paris, March 15.

"The African prince, whom captain Laudolf never loſes ſight of, begins to ſpeak French; we have converſed with him and his Mentor two days ago. That African appears to be very tractable. When his father entruſted him to the care of captain Laudolf, he ſaid to him, I hope thou wilt not do my ſon any harm. The prince, on quitting the dominions of Oere, was accompanied to the French ſhip by his eighteen wives, and by the people, who were very unwilling to let him go. The reigning monarch is allied to the king of Benin; he has ſixty-four wives. If he ſhould happen to die, the received cuſtom of the country will be followed with reſpect to him; he will be carried to a very deep grave in the form of a well, he will then be let down into it with four of his firſt favourites. Afterwards they will form the royal catacombs, and the whole nation will hunt the adjacent foreſts, for the purpoſe of driving all the wild beaſts that they can find to the brink of the grave. The next day, twenty four hours after the inhumation of the king, they will open the tomb again; the ſon of the deceaſed king ſhall cry out, "Is my father riſen?" The favourites are to anſwer "No." From that moment 20,000 hands are employed in filling up the grave with the heads of the wild beaſts. The tomb is afterwards ſhut up, never to be opened more."

NEW-YORK, May 4.

Early in March laſt, a ſhip commanded by captain Dawſon, ſailed from London for Halifax, in which embarked the right reverend father in God, Dr. Samuel Seabury, biſhop of the ſtate of Connecticut. He was conſecrated by three biſhops on the 14th day of laſt November. He will ſtay a few days in Nova Scotia, and may be expected to meet the epiſcopal clergy of his ſee at the city of New-London, (the place of his reſidence) in the courſe of this month.

Biſhop Seabury is the firſt perſonage conſecrated for the government of the epiſcopal church in North America. And, on his arrival in New-London, a number of candidates for holy orders from ſeveral ſeminaries of the firſt rank, will repair thither for the purpoſe of ordination.

May 5. We hear from the northward, that about a fortnight ſince, the ſon of —— Younglove, Eſq; of Cambridge, was returning from Albany with a large ſum of money, which he imprudently diſcovered at a tavern above New-City. A couple of footmen were obſerved to leave the houſe immediately, and were heard by a negro man, to ſay they would take care of that money. The young man went directly after them. The negro gave information of what he had heard to the landlord, who ordered his horſe to be got ready, armed himſelf, and rode full ſpeed in purſuit of them; but, unfortunately, before he came up, the villains had murdered Mr. Younglove, and were plundering the body. The gentleman ſecured one on the ſpot; the other was ſoon taken, and both committed to Albany gaol. The court of oyer and terminer and gaol delivery ſet at Albany laſt week, the reſult of the trial we have not heard.

The earl of Dunmore, formerly governor of Virginia, in America, is appointed governor of Jamaica, in the Weſt-Indies.

May 7. The Antelope packet, with captain Kemthorne's mail for England, is detained only by contrary winds, and will ſail the inſtant it is favourable, with the following gentlemen, paſſengers,

Mr. Clapham, of Annapolis in Maryland.
Mr. Heathcote.
Mr. Stonecutter; and
The commander of a Guineaman that was ſome time ago unfortunately caſt away.

Yeſterday arrived the ſhip Duke of Buccleugh, captain Ritchie, in thirty-eight days from London, by whom we learn, that the Engliſh miniſtry on the 23d of March, received advice by expreſs from Paris, of the emperor's troops having begun their march againſt the Dutch territories. Maeſtricht, and the adjacent countries, it is ſuppoſed, will be the firſt ſcenes of hoſtilities. Thus, war ſeems to be commenced without a doubt.

Petitions from all the manufacturing towns of Great-Britain, are before parliament againſt the Iriſh commercial ſyſtem; and the bill for a reform in parliamentary repreſentation, it is expected, will not ſucceed; theſe two objects embarraſs the preſent, and afford great advantages to the members of the old adminiſtration.

France is uſing great exertions in recruiting her marine, particularly in building ſhips with three decks, which, they ſay, they found laſt war to be irreſiſtible in ſmooth water; and to them, in a great meaſure, from their ſuperior fire to two-deckers, they attribute their chief loſs in the Weſt-Indies.

The idea of a continental war comes in all form announced, as an event which is certainly to take place; though, from whence this certainty is derived, yet remains uncommunicated. And yet, with thoſe gulls, the jobbers in the alley, down it goes!

PHILADELPHIA, May 4.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Charleſton, South-Carolina, dated February 22, 1785.

"In the courſe of a little more than twelve months paſt there have been imported into this ſtate 5,406 ſlaves, and to the amount of 1,591,440l. ſterling of dry goods, &c. making together 1,914,960l. eſtimating the negroes as they ſold on an average, at the exceſſive price of 60l. and the dry goods at net coſt in Europe, clear of every charge whatever.

"The value of the crop of 1783 has been eſtimated at 350,000l. and it is ſuppoſed the crop of 1784 will not exceed it materially. Hence you may form an idea of the ſituation of the ſtate at large, reſpecting our debts and our abilities to diſcharge them.

"Thus deeply involved, the merchants here, with the merchants in England, and the planters with the former; from abroad we have nothing but complaints and remonſtrances at the tardineſs of remittances, and among ourſelves the complaints of creditors for want of payment, and of the debtors for being puſhed, are univerſal.

"For the relief of the latter various expedients have been mentioned in the aſſembly now ſitting,—ſuch as ſtricting the courts, emitting paper money, paſſing a valuation law, ſimilar to what was formerly a law in North-Carolina.

"The two former ſeem now to be rejected, but the latter will paſs; and alſo a law prohibiting the importation of ſlaves for a limited time.

"Thus it has become neceſſary to adopt a meaſure injurious in its tendency to public credit, in order to relieve inconſiderate individuals."

Extract of a letter from Leyborn, dated January 28.

"The trade with the United States of America to the ports in the Mediterranean, is very much relaxed of late, owing to the Algerine rovers, who are exceedingly numerous, and very diligent after the thirteen ſtripes. They cruiſe upwards of 100 leagues out of their former track, on purpoſe to fall in with ſhips of every nation they are at war with; nor are thoſe revengeful freebooters ſatisfied with the ſacrifice of ſhip and cargo, but ſend all they find on board, without diſtinction, into ſlavery."

Extract of a letter from Londonderry, March 1, 1785.

"In conſequence of a moſt oppreſſive increaſe of the ſtamp tax, moſt of the news-papers in this country will ſoon be ſilenced. We hear much of diſſentions in Pennſylvania.—If the Americans underſtood the groſs impoſitions of a corrupt parliament (guided only by Engliſh influence) they would ſtrive to make a proper uſe of that liberty for which they ſo gloriouſly contended."

May 16. On Tueſday laſt, May the 3d, between the hours of two and three in the afternoon, as the brig Charleſton Packet was coming up the bay of Delaware, near the Brandywine ſhoal, her pilot diſcovered what had the appearance of a man upon a wreck, and the brig being directed towards it, in a little time was obſerved the waving of a hat; whereupon the brig was brought to, and the boat, with the mate and a ſufficient number of mariners, was immediately diſpatched to give the neceſſary aſſiſtance, who took from the wreck of a ſmall veſſel, a man, the only ſurviving perſon on board her, whoſe ſituation was diſtreſſing beyond deſcription, having bound himſelf with a rope to the higheſt part of her, to prevent his being waſhed off; and to keep his head above water was obliged to ſtand conſtantly on his feet, and then the waſh of the ſea was frequently as high as his breaſt, and being brought on board the brig, with only the remains of life, great caution was neceſſary to preſerve it. As ſoon as he recovered ſufficient ſpirits for converſation, he informed that his name is John Vollum; that he had come out of Duck creek in a ſmall ſhallop to go an oyſtering, and that fire was overſet three days before, in a hard ſqual of wind; that he had remained in the ſituation they found him ever ſince, without eating or drinking, and had been twice driven out to ſea, in the time. He alſo ſaid, that the ſkipper of ſaid ſhallop (whoſe name was Martin Joiner) had died the day after the accident, being unable to ſupport himſelf through the fatigue, hardſhip and depreſſion of ſpirits he underwent. He alſo ſaid, he had ſeen at a diſtance, ſeveral veſſels in the time; and, that the day preceding that of his delivery, a ſhip (which he ſuppoſes to be the Birmingham, captain Hathorne, from Briſtol, now lying in this harbour) had paſſed very near him, that he made what ſignals he could, and believes they were diſcovered, as the ſhip hove to three times, but afterwards ſtood on again, without any further attempt to aſſiſt him.

RICHMOND, May 7.

Arrived in James river, the Grange and Iſabella, from Glaſgow; Favourite and Palliſer, and Virginia Heroe, captain Nicolſon, from London.

By way of Boſton we learn, that captain Ellwell, from Virginia to Liſbon, had put into that port, having met with a veſſel near the banks of Newfoundland, the maſter of which declared, that he had fallen in with a Liverpool ſhip, from which he had received information of a Mooriſh cruiſer having captured ſix American veſſels, and had the maſters of them priſoners on board.

BALTIMORE, May 10.

Late London news-papers adviſe, that matters between the emperor and the Dutch are not likely to be brought to an amicable accommodation; and that a war between the two powers is now looked upon as inevitable—That the French court had ordered count Dillon to prepare for an encampment in Flanders, near Montaiſe, where 20,000 men were to be encamped by the beginning of May, as ſome intereſting events might be expected by that time—That the emperor had determined to viſit the Low-Countries in perſon—That the motion of the Auſtrian troops began to make the court of Berlin (Pruſſia) very uneaſy—That the three different encampments which the emperor intends to form the preſent ſpring ſeem rather deſigning to act offenſively than defenſively; and that the opening the Scheld was not the only object which engages his imperial majeſty's attention—That the elector of Saxony had been ſolicited to furniſh 12,000 of his troops to join with 30,000 Pruſſians in eſtabliſhing a camp at Koneigſtein; while a Pruſſian army of 80,000 men was to be aſſembled in the environs of Schweidnitz, to penetrate, if required, into Bohemia and Moravia—That continental affairs had approached the criſis, and with the advancement of ſpring there was every reaſon to think an immediate war would break out.

As an inſtance of the horrid cruelty human nature may be capable of, when deſtitute of the reſtraining influence of the Almighty, we here inſert a ſhort account of a moſt horrid and unnatural murder, which has been juſt communicated to us—after the magiſtrate has inveſtigated the atrocious deed, we may be able to give our readers further particulars.

"On Saturday laſt Philip Peppble, of Frederick county, with his wife and four young children, the eldeſt but 9 years of age, was at his mother's houſe, eight miles from Tawney-town, when this unhappy man, frightened (as is ſuppoſed) by the ſpectre Poverty, murdered all of them with an ax, and then cut his own throat, to put an end to a wretched exiſtence.—He is committed to priſon but not expected to live, until ſentence can be paſſed againſt him for his barbarous crime."

WAS found, by Walter Dyer, living in Queen-Anne, Prince-George's county, ſome time in Auguſt 1783, on the main road leading from Upper Marlborough to Annapolis, a pinchbeck watch, with a ſteel chain; ſhe was made in London by George Clark, and from a bill in her caſe was repaired in Baltimore, by George Leveley. The owner may have her again, on proving property and paying charges.

Prince-George's county, April 2, 1785.

Some very good lands for ſale, and time allowed for payment, if deſired.

SEVERAL tracts of rich level lime ſtone land adjoining to each other, and lying within 2 or 3 miles of that healthy and pleaſant place Sheppard's-town, in Berkely county, Virginia, on Potowmack river: the land is full of locuſt, black walnut, black oak, hiccory, and poplar; lies partly on Opeccon, the Swan ponds, and Vanmeter's Marſh; the great road to Winchester and Carolina goes through; alſo the road to the Warm Springs. The tracts all together contain about 1600 acres, but can be conveniently divided; it is about 75 miles to Alexandria, 25 to Frederick-town; the land is very fine for graſs, fine tobacco, hemp, wheat, and corn; ſeveral ſmall fields and tenements are cleared upon it ready for cropping. There is a good neighbourhood, and every conveniency of griſt and ſaw mills, iron works, and a ready market for every produce; the land lies in the ſame rich valley with Conococheague, and is every way equal to the beſt of it, and in a very few years, muſt greatly increaſe in value.

Alſo four ſmall tracts of good land, containing together between 7 and 800 acres, lying near the town of Bath, the Warm Springs in Virginia, partly on the Cape-Capon river, capable of great improvement by ſaw and griſt mills, and plenty of fine oak and large pine timber, meadow, and arable and tobacco grounds. The lands lie near and bordering on Patowmack river, and from their ſituation and ſoil muſt every year grow more valuable.

Alſo ſeveral tracts of land lying near Bennett's creek, Buſh creek, and Seneca, in Montgomery county, Maryland, containing all together about 1600 to 2000 acres; they lie about 30 miles from George town and Bladenſburg, 10 to Frederick, about 40 from Baltimore; the ſoil makes the finest yellow tobacco, and there is a very great and good range for ſtock of all kinds.

The very great diſtreſs and trouble our country has been engaged in for the laſt nine years, I have felt moſt ſeverely, as well as others, and therefore I have not harraſſed by law-ſuits thoſe indebted to me; but as we now enjoy the bleſſings of peace, a free trade, and a good crop, I earneſtly entreat all thoſe any way indebted to me, to contrive me as ſpeedy and as liberal payments as poſſible, that I may be enabled the more readily, as it is my deſire, to perfect my own engagements.

CATHARINE SIEBERT,

WITH the aſſiſtance of journeymen, and apprentices brought up by her late huſband, Mr. Juſtus Siebert, means to continue keeping the ſhop for dreſſing hair, making cuſhions, curls, &c. for ladies, as carried on in the time of her huſband.

Mrs. Siebert, though ſhe addreſſes this to the public, particularly intends it for thoſe who frequented the ſhop, and generouſly honoured Mr. Siebert with their cuſtom in his life time; ſhe hopes they will not now forſake her in the hour of diſtreſs, if they do, the only means of her ſupport will be gone for ever. Though the apprentices may not be equally capable as the maſter was, whom they have loſt, yet it is acknowledged one of them dreſſes ladies and gentlemen with as much taſte as any other hair-dreſſer in Annapolis; aſſiſted by him, ſhe flatters herſelf with being able to give ſatisfaction to all who honour her with employment, particularly to cuſtomers whoſe kindneſs ſhe has ſo frequently experienced. 4X

ROMULUS,

A thorough bred Colt,

WILL cover this season at the subscriber's, in Charles county, within four miles of Piscataway, at the moderate price of six dollars a mare, and two shillings and six pence to the groom. Romulus is a good bay, full fifteen hands high, rising four years old, stout, well formed, very active, and I have great reason to believe he will make a good running horse; he was got by True Whig, who was got by Regulus, who was got by Fearnought, who was got by Martindale's Regulus, who was got by the Godolphin Arabian; his dam was Aurora, who was got by Monkey, upon a mare of the Spanish breed imported by Mr. Harrison, father to the present Mr. Nath. Harrison, on James river. I will find pasturage for mares at two shillings and six-pence per week, great care shall be taken of them, but will not be answerable for escapes or accidents.

BENJAMIN CAWOOD.

N. B. In order to establish the pedigree of Romulus, I have thought proper to insert the following certificates:

The bay mare Aurora, now the property of Mr. Benjamin Gwinn, of Fairfax, was bred by me, she was got by my imported horse Monkey, her dam was of the Spanish breed imported by my father. Given under my hand this 21st day of May 1783.

NATH. HARRISON.

True Whig was bred by me, and was got by my old horse Regulus, out of the dam of Apollo; she was an imported mare, and said to be of the first blood in England, but her pedigree being lost I do not at present recollect it.

June 17, 1783. WILLIAM FITZHUGH.

The bay colt Romulus, now the property of Messieurs Gwinn and Cawood, was bred by me; he was got by True Whig, out of my old mare Aurora, both mentioned above. Given under my hand this 22d day of June 1783.

7 BENJAMIN GWINN.

TWENTY DOLLARS REWARD.

December 21, 1784.

RAN away from the subscriber, living in Anne Arundel county, near Queen-Anne, a negro man slave named SAM, about five feet seven inches high, well made, has a very flat nose, and when his mouth is shut his under lip looks very large and prominent, has a remarkable scar upon his neck reaching almost from his ear to his collar bone occasioned by an impost hume, but on which side I am not certain; had on and took with him various articles of cloathing, among which were a coarse blue cloth coat, white kersey waistcoat, black worsted knit breeches, black leather shoes, white metal shoe buckles, striped holland coat, nankeen waistcoat and breeches, two osnabrig shirts and trousers, a crocus frock, and a new felt hat, but as he has been absent from my service since the 12th of July last it is probable he may have got other cloaths. I have been informed he has a forged pass and has changed his name from Sam to Jem, and endeavours to pass for a free man. Whoever will take up and secure said negro in any gaol, so that I may get him again, shall receive the above reward, and reasonable charges if brought home, paid by

Intendant's-office, April 28, 1785.

AS many purchasers of confiscated British property, for the emissions of June 1780, and the emission of May 1781, neglected to give bond before the first day of this month, agreeably to the directions of the act to establish funds, &c. such debtors as are able to pay, are liable to immediate suit, and judgments can be obtained the first court, and executions thereon issue to compel the payment of the money due the state in the money contracted for: The intendant of the revenue, desirous to avoid bringing suits, if the intention of the act can be complied with, and substantial justice can be done without, gives notice to such debtors who have not given bond, that if they will pay to the treasurer of the western shore, on or before the 10th day of July next, in specie, or in the emissions of June 1780 (commonly called state, and state continental) one sixth of the sums due from them respectively, that they shall, on giving bond before the said 10th day of July next, with security for the residue, including interest to the first day of September last, have credit until the first day of January 1790; and they may discharge such residue of their debt in any specie certificates issued by this state. All debtors who do not comply with this offer, will be sued immediately after the said 10th day of July, without any distinction. 6w

DAN. OF ST. THO. JENIFER, intendant of the revenue.

Intendant's-office, April 28, 1785.

THERE appearing to be about the sum of twenty thousand pounds of the emissions of June 1780, including interest, commonly called state and state continental paper money, in circulation, more than the amount of bonds lodged in the treasury, and particularly appropriated by law for the redemption of these emissions; to secure the payment of which bills, the act to establish funds, &c. directs, that after the first day of June next, a draught shall be made of bonds taken for the redemption of the emission of May 1781, and of the bonds taken in virtue of the said act for property sold, and not bonded for before the act passed: It being the desire of the intendant to avoid a draught, if the redemption of the bills to the amount above stated can be secured in any other manner, he proposes to all those who have bonds in the office liable to a draught as aforesaid, that the balance aforesaid directed to be secured, be paid by the 10th day of July next, into the treasury, by the debtors, in proportion to their several debts, in specie, or the said bills. This will require about one eighth of the sums due to be paid. If, therefore, the said debtors, before the day above mentioned, pay into the treasury one eighth of their debts respectively, in specie or the bills aforesaid, and the sum paid in is equal to the balance to be secured as aforesaid or nearly so, the intendant will apply the same, with such other means as may be in his power, to the purpose aforesaid; and the debtors to the state will be relieved from the hazard of a draught, which might be very distressing to individuals, though the contribution made by all will make the burthen very light, by being divided; and if there should not be a sufficient sum for the purpose aforesaid made up by the debtors, with the other means in the intendant's power, by the day aforesaid, and a draught must take place, then those who do pay into the treasury, in consequence of this notice, shall have their money returned, and must stand their chance of being draughted, as the intendant has no power to excuse any individual, if there is a draught. 6w

DAN. OF ST. THO. JENIFER, intendant of the revenue.
